

'Patience'

Written and presented by: Sarah Horwitz and Rachel Roberson

Sermon presented at Friday Night Services on July 13, 2007

Shabbat Shalom ranchers. Our sermon tonight is about patience, a very important part of living at Echo Hill. There are so many things that we must be patient with, whether it is waiting for a calf to be born or for a bunkmate to get out of the shower. Sometimes we may get frustrated, but we must always remember to make our time at Echo Hill the best we can make it.

Part of being in a bunk with other people is learning to be patient with one another. We were all patient for the rain to stop, and then the sun finally came out! The biggest thing we have to wait for during the year is getting to Echo Hill, but the wait is definitely worth it. Even though we've said all this stuff about being patient, the one thing we absolutely cannot wait for is HOE DOWN!

Thank you for being patient and green trees.
