60TH SUMMER IS A BLAST!

As the flag was raised and the buses rolled out the morning of July 18, Echo Hill Ranch’s Diamond Jubilee session came to a bittersweet end. When ranchers, TLC’s and counselors reflect upon this session, they will have a bevy of memories to choose from. Activities throughout the day were always a blast, and campers were even able to embark on a nature hike with Phil, Bess and other counselors almost every morning before breakfast.

We launched the new Wilderness Education Certificate Program for TLC 2s, made pita ovens with alternative building materials like mud, sand and even horse manure!, along with fencing, karate, and microscope club! Fascinating non-traditional activities this summer included Cloud Watching with Bess and Phil, Snake Talk and Adventuring with Jaylen Sharp Improv and Story Telling with D. Fick and D. Ronn were great new additions to the schedule. After activities were over, Free Swim with Maxie and Trevor was always there to entertain and refresh us. And when the days were winding to a close, this year’s Evening Programs turned out to be some of the best ever. Whether it was dancing at Hoedown or the Decade Social, reliving classic camp memories at Traditions Night and Tale Tales Night, basking in our bunkmates’ talents on Talent Night, inventing crazy stories at Pillowcase Skit Night, bonding at All Boys Capture the Flag and All Girls Cookout or participating in some nighttime activities at Sports Spectacular or Club Night, every night was a special night. On top of everything, the hill climbs, meal times, song singing, birthdays and 1-2-3 HOW!s, we will think back to this session, and look forward to many more.

But the greatest part of the summer were all the new friends we made and wonderful memories to think about until next year!

Hoedown Gets Everyone Dancing!

The build-up of excitement for this year’s Hoedown began when a group of counselors and TLC’s stormed through the dining hall with props, yelling about a “Showdown”, “Brodawn” and “Blowdown”, but everyone knew that the camp’s favorite country-western social was upon us. Hoedown began with a bang as the entire ranch joined hands and danced the Snake, led by Brett. The MC’s Eric, Bess, Brett and Jenna then led the singing of “She’ll Be Coming Around the Mountain”, “I’m Going to Leave” and “Ragtime Cowboy Joe”.

Big Foot got the party started with Big Jon, with Jimmy Ray playing the Cajun King. Then came the Bluebonnets, dancing to another classic, “John Deere Green”, signs-taped-on-backs and all. Ben N. and Brett showed off their spitting prowess in a Spitting Contest for the ages. The Mavericks were the next bunk to perform, with a rousing rendition of 5 Pound Bass. Valley View followed with the story of Katie and Tommy, “She’s In Love With the Boy”. Each bunk then sent two campers to showcase their vocal ranges with a loud (or silly, quiet) “1-2-3 YEE HAW”. Rangers South performed “Rocky Raccoon” by The Beatles and Rangers North acted out the story of “Cowboy Bill”. Crow’s Nest and Belles danced a couple of classic country line dance songs together. Those dances were followed by “The Virginia Reel”, danced by the Stars and Spurs. The TLC boys and girls rounded off the bunkhouse skits and began the social camp wide dancing with one final country-western boogie. Also performed by counselors were the skits “The Shootin’ Machine”, “Ol’ Shep” and a old-time tradition that was brought back in honor of the 60th anniversary, “Cowpatty”, the story of a girl who rides into town to find the man who killed her daddy. It was an incredible Hoedown this year, and we’d like to give a great big 1-2-3 How! to the MC’s: Brett, Jenna, Eric and Bess for their astounding enthusiasm and dedication to making the social great.

ECHO HILL OFFERS FIRST WILDERNESS EDUCATION CERTIFICATE—TLC 2s Get it Done!

With an outstanding outdoor education staff, led by Wilderness 1st Responders Ben Meador and David Friedman, we offered a 6 hour intensive training course to the TLC 2s. Master Naturalist Phil Brush and Science Education Major Bess Reisberg taught different modules and Chelsea Levin, Eric Lynn and Griselda Hernandez helped out.

The final assignment was for the TLC 2s to plan, map out and lead their own extensive backpacking trip. Senior staff followed about 200 feet behind the TLC 2s as they handled all aspects of the overnight backpacking themselves! It was a big challenge and the TLC 2s stepped up to the demands with lots of teamwork and excellent use of the wilderness skills they learned. 1-2-3 HOW to the following TLC 2s for completing the course: Ben Ray, Jesse Rosenberg, Jacob Michel, Melanie Weinberger, and Lindy Disman!

TEACH YOUR FAMILY HOW TO LEAVE NO TRACE:WHEN HIKING OR CAMPING:

1. Plan & prepare
2. Pack it in & Pack it Out!
3. Camp & Travel on Hard Surfaces
4. Use proper sanitation
5. Minimize use & impact of fire
6. Leave what you find.
7. Be Respectful of wildlife and their habitats.
8. Be Respectful of other human visitors.

Chumley –oldest ranch dog at 18 yrs!

The 3rd part of our Ranch Animal Spotlight Series

Why hello there, I’m Chumley. Some people call me Chums, but I have no preference. I’ve been on this Ranch for a long, long time and I’ve seen some crazy things, but nothing is crazier than those two young’ns Benny and Winston. My, how they love to play and wrestle! If you ever want to visit me and talk about old-school Echo Hill things or just pet me, I like to hang out in the Lodge with Mr. Kinky or follow Marcie around. Come play and talk with me and maybe I’ll wag my tail a bit. I sure do love to eat, so I’ll be extra nice if you provide me with some extra food. Speaking of which, I got to go. Woof.

(Note: Chumley is very patient with Winston and Benny and has helps them calm down when they get to rowdy!)

The Golden Paintbrush

By: Michaela Friedman

This year for the first time we had an award for handicrafts. This award commends campers for notable dedication and enthusiasm for handicrafts. Our two amazing talented golden paintbrush award winners were Hunter Hurst and Daniel Boarnet. Both of these campers spent much of their free time in the crafts corral and helped with the crew for the play. Let’s give Hunter and Daniel a great big 1-2-3 HOW!

NEWS FROM THE BUNKHOUSES

Bluebonnets by Chloe Lewis and Ellie Stein

This week, we climbed Echo Hill and got to ride in the truck with Glenn. He took us around Echo Hill, South Flat and Big Foot, and it was awesome! Every day some of my bunkmates take time to play with the dollhouse I made in the Crafts Coral, which is a great bunk activity!

Valley View by Tessa Davidsohn

The girls and I built a playground behind our bunk. We made a swing out of a hammock, wood and rope and an exercise tool with a pole and another rope. The whole thing is miraculous! Some of us have also enjoyed participating in the play.

Boleros by Haley Bucher

Yesterday we glazed pottery— we each picked out a color and set it out to dry and if we wanted to, we painted a letter on the side. Our ceramics came out great! We've also been bonding as a bunk over card games during Quiet Time.

Belles by Emma Singleton

We had a lot of fun this week. It was nice to have some rain (and a mud fight, of course). A lot of us are going to be in the ranch musical, and our very own Rachel Bucher is going to play Belle in

Interview with new counselor

Jessica Oakley

Led by Mike Disman

Q: How did you hear about Echo Hill?

A: I learned about Echo Hill through my best friend Callie Griffin, who came here as a rancher. I was looking for a job this summer, so she told me about it and I applied.

Q: What have you been doing most at camp?

A: I directed the play, I helped a lot with Handicrafts and Riflery and hung out at the Deep End often during Free Swim.

Q: What is your favorite thing to do at

Beauty and the Beast!

Stars by Lauren Herman

At Hoedown, we danced the Virginia Reel with the Spurs. Jordana taught our bunk, but most of us already knew it because we did it last year too. All in all, we loved Hoedown!

Big Foot by Micah Bernstein

Club Day! A whole day for Bigfoot to do whatever we want! Our bunk especially enjoys hanging out at Archery, Leather crafts and play practice! Counselor's Night was very awesome and hilarious!

Mavericks by Gabriel Lewis

On the day that it poured rain, I went to Handicrafts with a few of my bunkmates. I made a crafting table out of cardboard and they made wooden sculptures that they hung in our bunk. It's so much prettier in there now!

Rangers N. by Joseph Dowdall

Our bunk is super happy for club days. We really enjoy Horseback Riding. Last time we rode, we went on a trail ride through the main flat. How exciting!

Rangers S. by Ian Boarnet

Yesterday, we had a tickle fight during bunkhouse cleanup— it was awesome! We also cooked out at the Far Side and camp?

A: Probably spending time with the girls in my Bluebonnets bunk and just getting to know the Ranch in general.

Q: What has your favorite meal been so far?

A: Barbeque chicken was the best because it was finger-licking good. I really enjoyed getting super messy with the campers.

Q: Favorite memory thus far?

A: Counselors Night, because it was a really good bonding experience with the kids. Also, I loved getting covered in sunscreen, Dr. Pepper, water and mud.

Q: What is your favorite part of everyday lit a one match fire that we kept going all night!

Crows Nest by Jordan Jacobson

Our bunk went on a cookout to the South Flat campsite a few days ago. We had a ton of fun eating our food around the campfire and telling progressive stories. We've also been spending our club days at Archery and swing dancing, making for a great week!

Spurs by Seth Sugarman

We had Horseback Riding twice this week— it was a lot of fun! We went for a couple of relaxed rides on the Main Flat and just chilled out. Our backpacking trip is nearing, and we're looking forward to it very much!

BEAUTY & THE BEAST!

Ranchers and counselors honored Echo Hill's 60th anniversary with a special performance of the classic story, Beauty and the Beast. Hearts pounded and smiles warmed the faces of campers as they watched Belle and the Beast bicker and begin to warm up to each other in the Beast's magical castle. With just four days to prepare, the cast and the crew all worked incredibly hard and their efforts were obvious. This year's play was a great success. See the full cast list and all the crew page 7!

60th Year Bunk Songs Wow the Ranch!

This year's bunk song contest featured inspired songs of all nature. Some fast, some slow, some happy and some sad, all embodied the spirit and enthusiasm that ranchers and counselors share about our little green valley. While all the songs were well written and performed, a few stood above the rest in terms of their description and expression of what makes Echo Hill great and why we love it here. In the end, Rangers North won Funniest Song, Boleros won Best Presentation and there was a three-way tie for first-place: Big Foot, Crow's Nest and Spurs. A great big 1-2-3 HOW! to all bunks for their wonderful dit-

Spurs Bunk Song– Chicken Fried (To the tune of “Chicken Fried” by Zach Brown Band)

Pre-chorus:

You know I love Rosie's Chicken Fried
Grape bug juice on a Friday night,
A pair of jeans for horseback ride
And ECHO...

I was raised underneath the shade of bunkhouse nine
That's home you know
Jerky, candy, gum are all so fine
Where care packages flow

Our bunk there's so much to talk about
It's filled with love and grown on Texas ground

Chorus:

I like to see the sunrise
See the love in my bunkmate's eyes
Feel the touch of the friendship squeeze
Know Lonesome Dove

It's funny how it's the little things at camp that mean the most
Like where you live,
Where you hiked
Or the horse that you just rode
There's no dollar signs on the inspection line this I've come to know.
So if you agree have a drink with me, and raise your glass for a toast

(Pre-chorus)

(Chorus)

I thank Rog for my bunk
For the Stars and Belles
May late nights forever fly,
(Campers) Can we have one please?
(Counselors nod no)

Salute the 60th

And ones that came before
And hope for so much more
And be here next year

(Pre-chorus)

(Chorus)

(Pre-chorus)

(Chorus)

Crow's Nest 2012 You're the Place I Want to be (Melody created and performed by Brendan Whyburn and Phil Brush)

I tell ya man this summer camp has meant a lot to me
I had my first kiss right there behind that tree
Mom's and Dad's, Uncles and Aunts and grandpas too
Roamed these hills with gleaming eyes just like me and you

Chorus:

Echo Hill you're the place I want to be
And ill never forget just what you've done for me
As I go to the world to do my part
Echo Hill you live within my heart

Ranchers past and present stand with me
And don't forget Magoo, Perk and Brownie
The nature shack with all those snakes in jars
Well it was Floyd Potter who put em there with Aunt Joan right in his arms

(Chorus)

Echo Hill you're the place I want to be
And ill never forget just what you've done for me
As I go to the world to do my part
Echo Hill you live within my heart

Uncle Tom and Aunt Min started the place
With a dream every child would have a smiling face

Though there gone, this ranch still lives on
And we still gather and raise the flag at dawn

(Chorus)

Echo Hill you're the place I want to be
And ill never forget just what you've done for me
As I go to the world to do my part

Big Foot Bunk Song (To the tune of “What I Got” by Sublime)

Early in the morning', getting out of bed
Putting on some shades and a hat up on my head (dee dee dee dee dee)
Every day is awesome, I love these green hills
I'd love to go and climb one with that tall dude Phil

(Solo)

The session's real short so come hang with me
We could play some basketball or do archery
Walk across the flat with my close toed shoes
Echo Hill Ranch is the place that rules

Chorus:

Ranch is... what I got... I said Echo Hill (x4)

Overnight at Big Foot was so much fun
Kickin' back and relaxin' underneath the Sun
Bunk 7 life ain't nothing but heaven
Especially our plumbing, thanks a lot Kevin Chorus to fade)

Answers to Brain Teasers:

5. 450 falafels!
6. True—over millions of years of water flow, the valley was formed between them
7. 8 legs
8. False—the top of Echo Hill, which is about 100 feet higher than the overlooks, is located a short walk west of the overlook
9. Big Foot Wallace, who was a Texas Ranger and lived near the ranch in the 1800's
10. Chuck, Phillip, Eric, Jake!
